The Hussey Family

Being that particular line concerned in the ancestry of Charles Chaney Baker of Los Angeles, California.

JOHN HUSSEY, probably a native of Berkshire, England, became a resident of Dorking, Surrey, England and married there on Dec. 5, 1593, Mary Wood. After his death, she emigrated to America and died at the home of her son in Hampton, N. H. June 16, 1660. In that place she had been taxed as "Widow Mary Hussey". One Christopher Hussey, probably a near kinsman of John Hussey, was Mayor of Winchester, England, in 1609, 1618 and 1631.

HON AND CAPTAIN CHRISTOPHER HUSSEY, sone of John and Mary (Wood) Hussey, was born in Dorking, Surrey, England in 1598, and was baptized there Feb. 18, 1599. When a young man he spent some time in Holland, where he solicited in marriage Theodate, daughter of the Rev. Stephen Bachelor (or Bachiler, more properly as this later spelling was the one used by the reverend gentleman himself), who gave his consent to their union on condition that they would go to America with him. This condition was complied with and after their marriage, about 1631. They sailed for America in the ship "William and Francis", arriving in Boston, June 5, 1632. They resided first in Lynn, Mass., where their first child, Stephen born, in England was baptized by his grandfather Bachiler. Christopher Hussey removed to Newbury, Mass., and in 1636 was a Selectman of that place. In 1638 he and his father-in-law were proprietors of Hampton, N. H. where they settled, and in 1639 he was appointed a Justice of the Peace, a position of great importance and dignity in early days, and held that office many years. He was also elected town clerk and first deacon of the church. In 1659 he became one of the purchasers of Nantucket Island, but did not reside there. In Hampton he was elected a Deputy (Representative) to the General Court, for the years 1658, 1659 and 1672. Orders were received from the King, Sept. 18, 1679, "to erect New Hampshire into a separate government", under jurisdiction of a president and council, to be appointed by himself. Hon. John Cutts was appointed president, and Hon. Christopher Hussey of Hampton, one of the six councillors. He served in the Royal Council from 1679 to 1685. He was a man of great prominence and wealth. His military affiliations were: Lieutenant, as early as 1658; Captain, May 15, 1672. He was also a conspicuous mariner and commanded vessels in trade with the West Indies. There are several theories concerning the death of Capt. Hussey. The fact that he followed the sea to some extent may have given rise to the belief that he was drowned at sea and eaten by cannibals. There is absolutely no foundation for such a story however as the town records of Hampton state that he was buried there March 8, 1686, and this statement is also supported by Coffin and Austin, two local historians. His first wife died in Hampton, Oct. 20, 1649, and he married, second, Mrs. Ann Mingay, widow of Jeffery Mingay. She died June 24, 1680.

STEPHEN HUSSEY, son of Hon. Christopher and Theodate (Bachelor) Hussey, was born in England in 1632, and came to America that year with his parents. He settled in Nantucket, Mass., where he married, October 8, 1676, at the age of 44, Martha, daughter of George and Jane (godfrey) Bunker, who was born Nov. 1, 1656. He was 24 years his wife's senior and had lived in Barbadoes and accumulated a good deal of property. That he was educated as a lawyer is evident from his will in which he leaves "my law books to my son Bachelor, for the use of his son "Stephen". He was a Friend, or Quaker, in religion before the forming of that church in Nantucket. He was a man of marked usefulness and commanding position.

He was a member of the Massachusetts General Court for the Island of Nantucket. He died April 2, 1718, at Nantucket, and his wife died there Sept. 21, 1744.

BACHELOR HUSSEY, son of Stephen and Martha (Bunker) Hussey, was born at Nantucket, Mass., Feb. 18, 1685. He married, Oct. 11, 1704, Abigail Hall of Piscataqua (now Berwick, Maine). The Nantucket records are silent as regards the death of Bachelor Hussey. From private records it seems certain that he lived, at the latter end of his life, in Maine, and that he died there in 1737.

CHRISTOPHER HUSSEY, son of Bachelor and Abigail (Hall) Hussey, was born April 10, 1706, in Nantucket, Mass. He removed, first, to Pennsylvania, probably Bucks County, and married Ann Garretson*. The Garretsons were a Delaware family, probably Swedish, and belong to a very early period (See letter dated Dec. 2, 1913, from Joseph Brown Turner to C.C. Baker). Christopher removed, second, to Randolph County, North Carolina, where he died, date not known. (written in ink in 1774.) -- *Sept. 5, 1736) F.W. Hussey)

STEPHEN HUSSEY, son of Christopher and Ann (Garretson) Hussey, was born in Pennsylvania, on July 10, 1739. He removed, first with his parents to Randolph County, North Carolina; married, Sept. 3, 1762, Martha Chamness, probably daughter of Anthony and Sarah Chamness (See Records of North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends, Cane Creek Vol. 1, page 24). Stephen Hussey later removed in 1807, to Highland County, Ohio, and died there in March, 1812.

STEPHEN HUSSEY, son of Stephen and Martha (Chamness) Hussey, was born in Randolph County, North Carolina, Oct. 3, 1773. He married there Mary Underwood, daughter of James and Margaret (Campbell) Underwood, June 7, 1798. He removed in the fall of 1805 to Highland County, Ohio, and died there Sept. 25, 1853.  See Collateral Line 'Carey' next page.

ZIMRI HUSSEY, son of Stephen and Mary (Underwood) Hussey, was born in Highland County, Ohio, March 7, 1808. Studied medicine in the Physio-Medical College, first in Columbus and later in Cincinnati, Ohio. Practicing physician, first in Hillsborough, Ohio, later in Cincinnati, in Lickland, Ohio, and in Chillicothe, Ohio, and Wilmington, Illinois. Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine at the Physio-Medical College of Cincinnati. Married, in 1828, Virginia, daughter of George and Hannah (Jenkins) Boxley, who was born in Virginia, Feb. 28, 1806, and died at Wilmington, Illinois, in April, 1866. Zimri Hussey died at Lockland, Ohio, June 9, 1869.

SOPHIA HUSSEY, daughter of Zimri and Virginia (Boxley) Hussey, was born Aug. 12, 1829, in Highland County, Ohio. Married, Dec. 25, 1849, at Lockland, Ohio, Stephen Horsey Baker, son of Solomon Mackey Baker, and his wife Elizabeth (Horsey) Baker. Died March 26, 1901, at Indianapolis, Indiana.

CHARLES WOOD BAKER, son of Stephen Horsey Baker and Sophia Hussey Baker, was born June 18, 1862 at Wilmington, Illinois. Married, at Hillside, South Dakota, on August 2, 1884, Alice Chaney, daughter of William and Sarah Ann (Armstrong) Chaney.

CHARLES CHANEY BAKER, son of Charles Wood Baker and Alice (Chaney) Baker, was born at Hillside, South Dakota, May 27, 1887. Married Nov. 24, 1926, Rena, daughter of Arthur C. and Hattie (Norton) Delphia, at Glendale, California.

HARRY DELPHIA BAKER, son of Charles Chaney Baker and Rena (Delphia) Baker. was born at Los Angeles, California, September 14, 1927.

STEPHEN BACHILER. In 1629, there was formed, probably in London, a small company of dissenters called the "Company of Husbandmen" or the "Company of the Plough". These names were perhaps scriptural in their allusion. for the members of the company seem to have been merchants and artizans rather than husbandmen. Their chosen pastor was the Rev. Stephen Bachiler. He was born about 1561, and in 1585 took his degree of A. B. at St. John's College, Oxford, and in 1587 he was presented to the living of Wherwell, Hants., by Lord LaWare, and for 18 years was Vicar of Wherwell. Sir Thomas West, the second Baronet De LaWare, the friend and benefactor of Rev. Stephen Bachiler, was the father of that Lord De La Ware from whom the state of Delaware was named. Stephen Bachiler was a man of strong impulses and an essential radical having as early as 1605 embraced the Puritan doctrines. Of his family and early history, as of his life from 1605 to 1630, little is known. He was in all probability of the Puritan contingent in Holland. He came to America in the "William and Francis" in the summer of 1632, in the second installment of the Plough Company and brought with him his wife, Helen, not probably the mother of his children, his grandson, Nathaniel Bachiler, Jr., and three grandchildren by the name of Sanborne. He and his little flock established themselves in Lynn, Mass. In 1632, the year of his arrival, he had come under the displeasure of the legislature for some heresies of doctrine and the Plough Company seems to have disbanded and come to an inglorious end. His course was a hard one but he labored with zeal and courage. In 1638, after several years of conflict with the Massachusetts Bay authorities, he removed to Ipswich and then to Newbury, where his son-in-law, Capt. Christopher Hussey, lived. After a two years' residence there, this stout old dissenter, at the age of nearly 80, conceived the idea of starting a plantation of his own, a day's march father north.

Accordingly in 1639 the plantation was begun, and in 1639 at Bachiler's request and in honor of the English city of Southampton, it was called Hampton, (New Hampshire). He was virtually the founder of this place. Here he had trouble with his assistant minister, the Rev. Timothy Dalton, and as a culmination of the whole matter he was charged with immorality; of this charge however he was cleared. After a few years' residence in Hampton he removed to Portsmouth, where he had no settled charge but preached occasionally. He returned to England in 1654, and died in Hackney, Middlesex, in 1660 in his 100th year. Though his career was beset with great difficulties and many infelicities his ability and iron will left a stamp upon the communities in which he had labored as a preacher of the word of God. The name of his first wife, the mother of his children, is not on record. His daughter, Theodate, born in 1598, in England, married 1631, Christopher Hussey.

WILLIAM BUNKER, a corruption of the French name Bon Coeur, was a French Huguenot, who came to England and resided. It is known that he had one son, GEORGE BUNKER who was born in England, and came early to Ipswich, Mass. About 1645 he removed to Topsfield, Mass, where that year he married Jane Godfrey. He was drowned May 26, 1658, and left his wife and five children. His widow married, second, Richard Swaine, and removed to Nantucket, with her husband and the five Bunker children. She died there Oct. 31, 1662, and her's is the first death recorded in the Nantucket town book. MARTHA BUNKER daughter of George and Jane (Godfrey) Bunker probably born in Topsfield, Mass., Nov. 1, 1656, married Stephen Hussey.

Hall

JOHN HALL, born in England in 1617, as proved by a deposition given in his old age, was the ancestor of a family of Halls which resided in old Dover, N. H., a region formerly called Piscataqua. He and his wife Elicabeth appear first on the church records of Charlestown, Mass., at the baptism of their son John, Sept. 21, 1645. They removed to Dover, N. H., and his name appears on the tax list of Dover in 1648/9. His home was at Dover Neck, on the Piscataqua River. He was a man of considerable prominence and high standing and much employed in the discharge of local affairs. He was a deacon of the church as early as 1655, a "commissioner to end small cases" and a selectman in 1660, and a grand juror in 1663, 1666, and 1668. In 1659 he was one of a committee of three to lay out the town bounds between the Lamprey and Newichawannock rivers. In 1670 he was elected town clerk and served in that capacity for many years. He died in Dover in 1693.

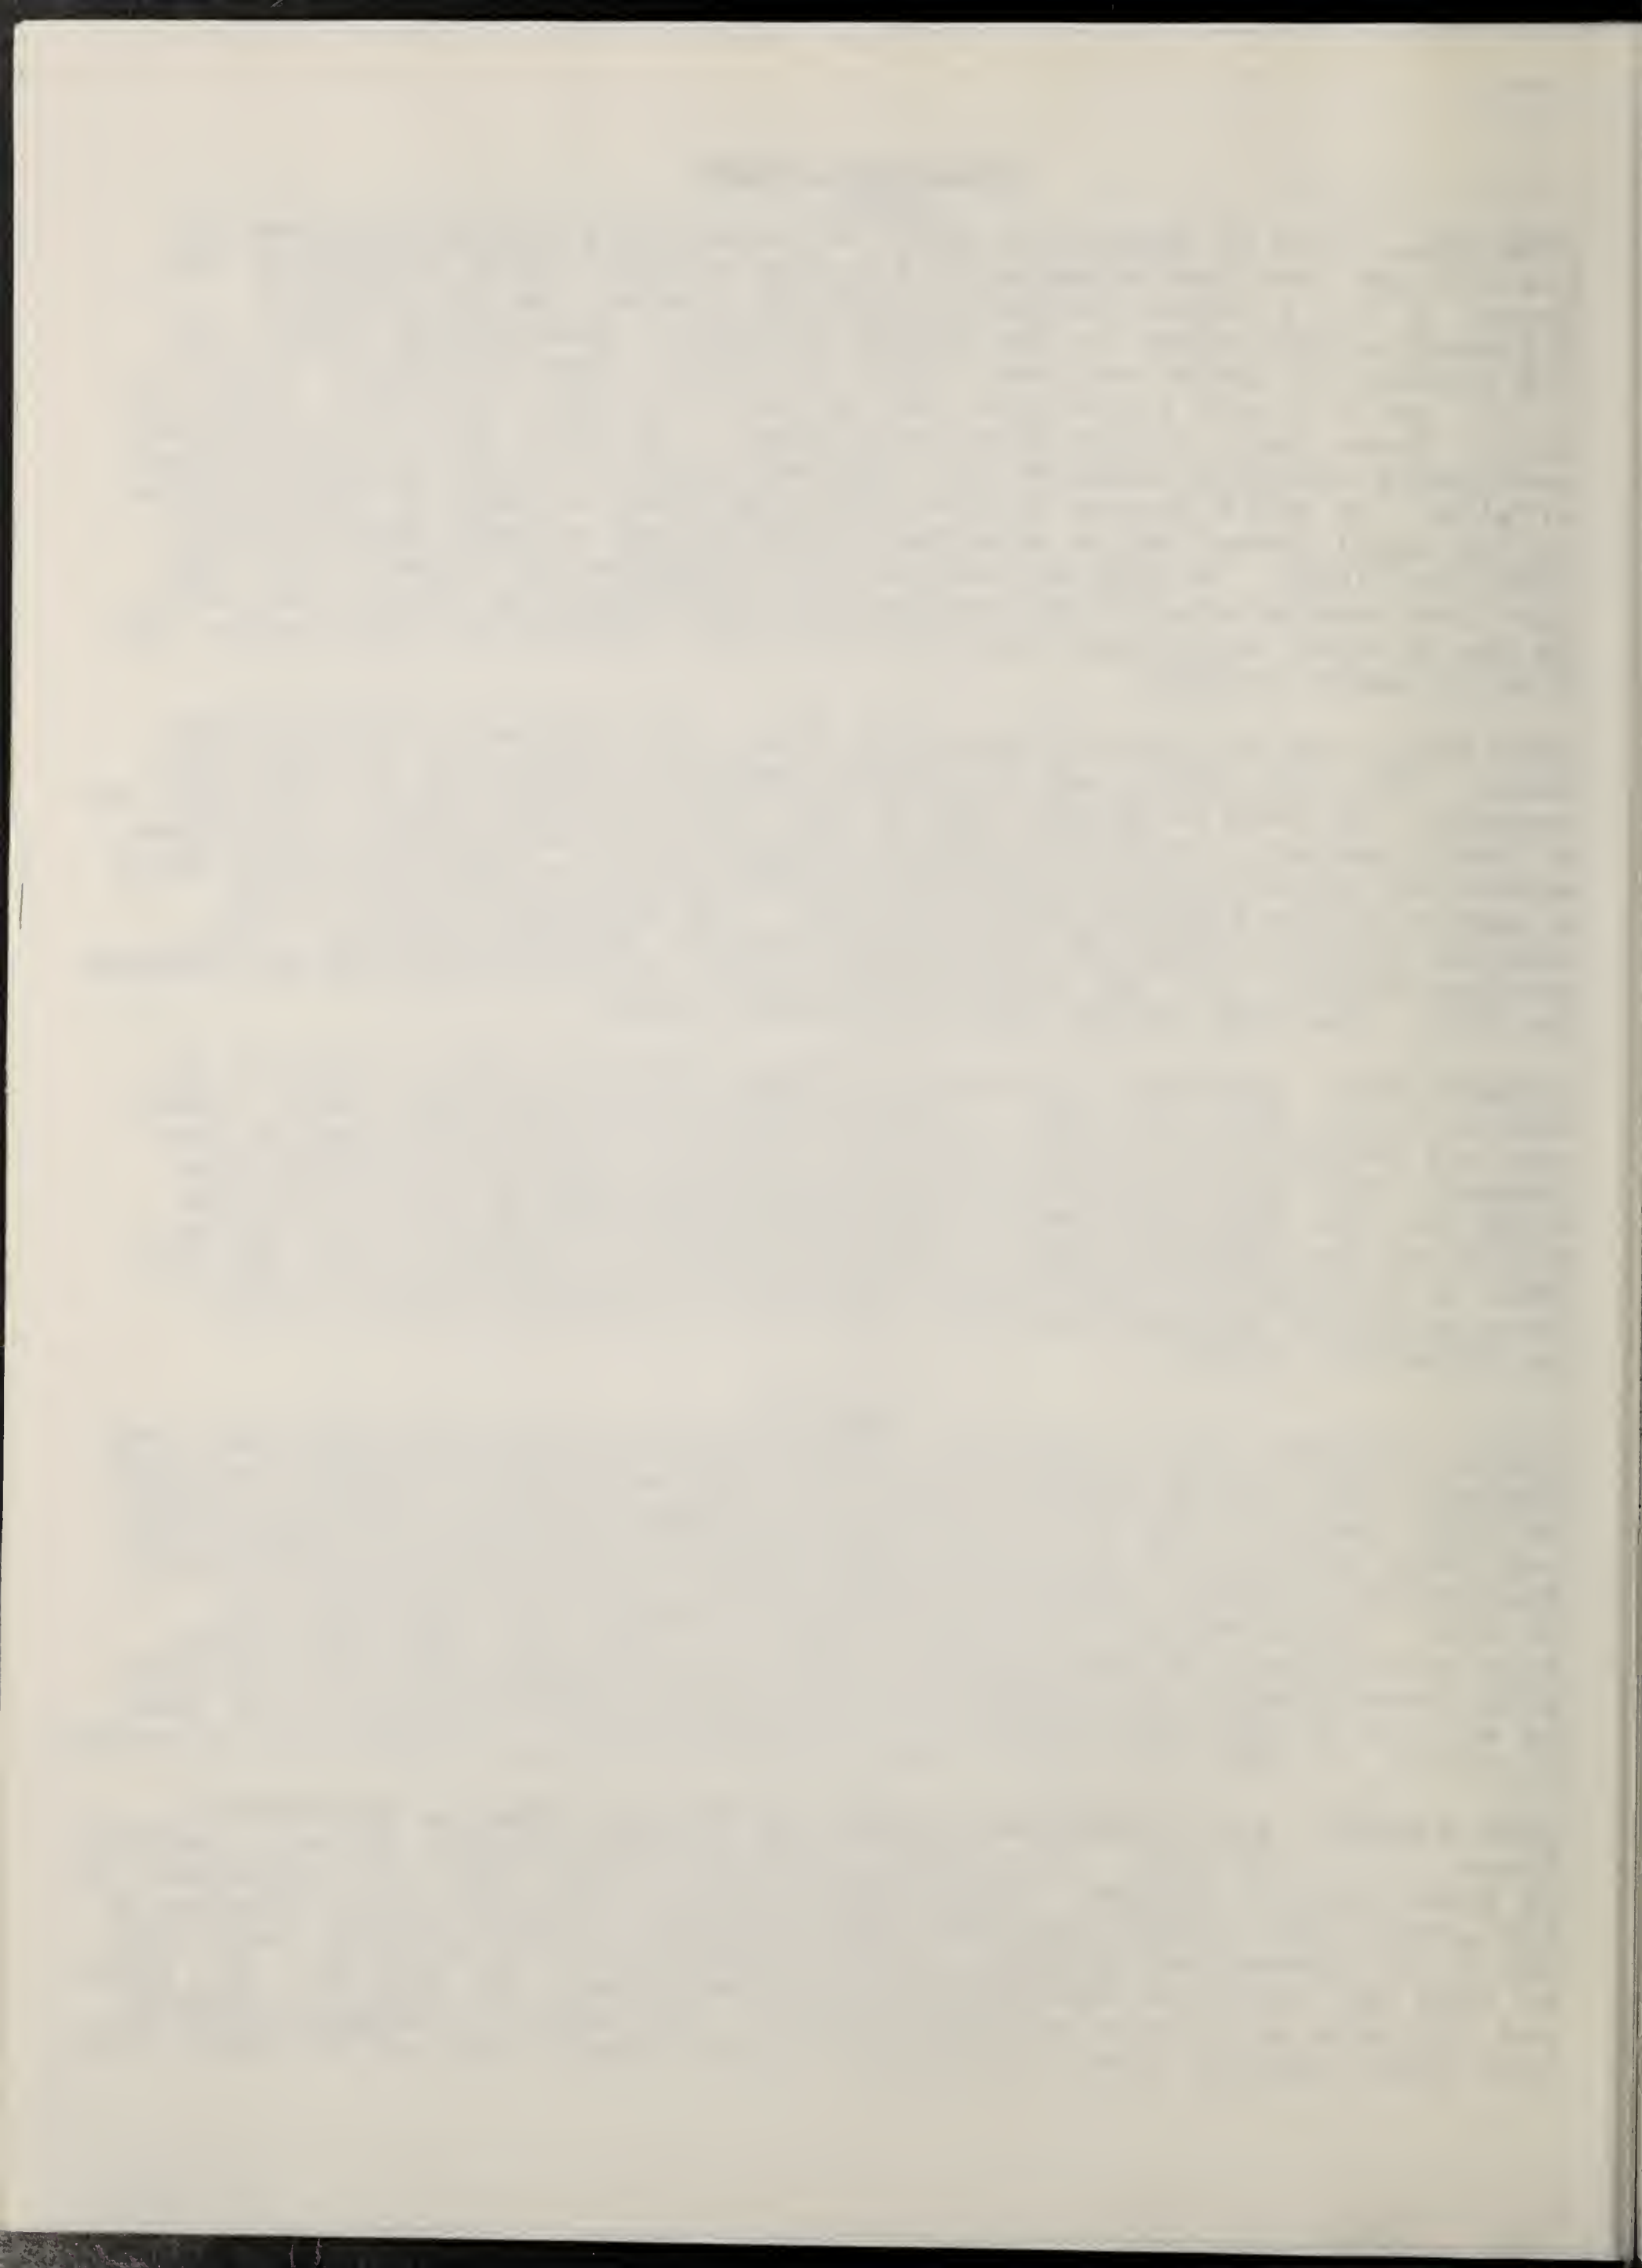

JOHN HALL, son of John and Elizabeth Hall, was baptized at Charlestown, Mass., Sept. 21, 1645, and in infancy removed to Dover, N. H. with his parents. In 1675 he bought land of the town committee and was licensed as a tavern keeper, a position of much importance in early days. He represented Dover in the N. H. Assembly in 1695, 1696 and 1697, and died while a member of the Assembly April 28, 1697. He married, Nov. 8, 1671, Abigail Roberts, daughter of John and Abigail (Nutter) Roberts. She married second, Oct. 24, 1698 Thomas Downes, who was killed by the Indians in 1711. The date of her death is not of record.

ABIGAIL HALL, daughter of John and Abigail (Roberts) Hall, was born in Dover, N. H., Feb. 24, 1680. She was married at Nantucket, Mass., where she was probably on a visit, Oct. 11, 1704, to Bachelor Hussey, of Nantucket. The vital Records of Nantucket Island, deposited in MSS form with the New England Historic Genealogical Society in Boston, in the notice of the marriage says: Bachelor Hussey of Nantucket and Abigail Hall of Pascatania, a Latinized form of the Indian Piscataqua. She was four years her husband's senior, Bachelor and Abigail Hussey removed to Biddeford, Maine.

Roberts

THOMAS ROBERTS, born in England, was an early and prominent emigrant from England, who took up land on Dover Neck, and was there as early, probably as 1623, being one of the first three settlers, with the brothers Edward and Henry Hilton. He was elected President of the Court, or Governor of Piscataqua in April, 1640, and served until the union with Massachusetts in 1641. He is styled the last colonial governor of Piscataqua, in Provincial Papers of New Hampshire, Vol. 1, page 119. That the union with Massachusetts was congenial to him may be judged from the fact that he was one of the first signers of the petition for the union. He died in Dover, in 1674, his wife's given name was Rebecca, surname not of record.

JOHN ROBERTS, son of Governor Thomas and Rebecca Roberts, was born in Dover, N. H., in 1629. He married there in 1649, Abigail Nutter, daughter of Elder Hatevil Nutter. He resided in Dover Neck, and was a selectman in 1664, 1665, 1668, 1673/4 and 1677, was sergeant of militia, and delegate to the N. H. Convention in 1689. He was marshall of the province from 1662 to 1680 and inflicted the penalty on Quaker women. He died Jan. 21, 1695, and his wife was living as late as 1674. His daughter, ABIGAIL ROBERTS born 1652, married first, John Hall, son of Deacon John and Elizabeth Hall.

Nutter.

ELDER HATEVIL NUTTER, was born in England in 1604. He probably was one of the company of "persons of good estate and of some account for religion" who were induced to leave England with Captain Wiggans in 1633 and to help found on Dover Neck a compact town. He testified in a deposition that he was living there in 1637. He acquired large tracts of land and was a man of comparative wealth for those times. He was much engaged in the discharge of local office, was Moderator of Dover, selectman, and served in other civil capacities and was a ruling elder of the church and an occasional preacher. He was conspicuous and active in the persecution of the Quakers as is manifest by what the Quaker historian Sewell says in giving an account of the whipping of the Quakers by order of the Court;

He was an able and influential man and stood up boldly and conscientiously for the church and the teachings of sound doctrine as he understood it." He died in 1675, aged about 71 years. In his will he mentions his children Hon Anthony Nutter, born in 1630, died in 1685, was a member of the Royal Council of New Hampshire in 1682.

ABIGAIL NUTTER, daughter of Elder Hatevil Nutter, married in 1649, John Roberts, son of Governor Thomas and Rebecca Roberts.

UNDERWOOD

SAMUEL UNDERWOOD, resided in North Carolina; married Ann, surname not known.

JAMES UNDERWOOD, son of Samuel and Ann Underwood, resided in North Carolina. He was in the Revolutionary War, a private soldier in the North Carolina Line -- See North Carolina Records, Vol. 17 page 255, and Vol. 22, page 89. He removed to Highland County, Ohio, where he died. Born March, 1752; died 1834. Married Margaret Campbell.

MARY UNDERWOOD, daughter of James and Margaret (Campbell) Underwood, was born Feb. 16, 1778 at Randolph County, North Carolina died at Highland County, Ohio, 9/22/1841 married Stephen Hussey June 7, 1798. Stephen Hussey was born Oct 3, 1773 at Randolph County, N. C. died at Highland County, 9/25/1853, Ohio.

Introduction

The first part of the book is devoted to a general survey of the history of the subject. It begins with a brief account of the early attempts to explain the phenomena of life, and then proceeds to a more detailed examination of the various theories which have been advanced. The author shows how the scientific method has been applied to the study of life, and how the various branches of biology have been developed. He also discusses the influence of the environment on the development of the individual, and the role of heredity in the transmission of characteristics.

The second part of the book is devoted to a detailed examination of the various theories which have been advanced. The author discusses the theories of Lamarck, Darwin, and Mendel, and shows how they have been modified and improved upon by later scientists. He also discusses the theories of the origin of life, and the role of the environment in the development of the individual.

The third part of the book is devoted to a detailed examination of the various theories which have been advanced. The author discusses the theories of Lamarck, Darwin, and Mendel, and shows how they have been modified and improved upon by later scientists. He also discusses the theories of the origin of life, and the role of the environment in the development of the individual.

The fourth part of the book is devoted to a detailed examination of the various theories which have been advanced. The author discusses the theories of Lamarck, Darwin, and Mendel, and shows how they have been modified and improved upon by later scientists. He also discusses the theories of the origin of life, and the role of the environment in the development of the individual.

- Letter of the late Dr. John M. This latter seems to me to be somewhat of a myth - it was very customary, in order to prove the wealth of immigrants to America, for those who called themselves genealogists to perpetuate myths of this kind which had been current in the family, or even to manufacture them in order to flatter the family.

Nantucket Relationships

The Hussey Family was related by marriage to most of the old families on the Island of Nantucket. There are ample proofs of intermarriages between the Husseys and the Macys, Coffins, Starbucks and Folgers, who were all prominent families of the Island.

In a copy of a letter from Roland C. Hussey to Frank W. Hussey, dated April 21, 1897, he remarks that Peter Folger, of Nantucket, had a daughter Abia, who was the mother of Benjamin Franklin. This matter could be traced to prove the relationship of Hussey descendants to the great statesman.

In the Gries genealogy of certain branches of the Hussey family, a copy of which was furnished me by Mr. F. W. Hussey, who has the original from a correspondent, appear the following marriages between the Hussey and Folger families:

No. 163 or 513; Daniel Hussey, married Hepzibah Folger, daughter of Abishai and Dinah (Starbuck) Folger.

No. 186 Dinah Hussey married Reuben Folger, son of Johnathan and Margaret (Gardner) Folger

No. 582: Tristram Hussey, married Sarah Folger

No. 584: Zaccheus Hussey, married Lydia Folger

No. 596: Rachael Hussey, married Peregrine Folger

No. 631: Rhoda Hussey, married Tristram Folger

No. 634: Uriel Hussey, married Phebe Folger

In addition, there were sons or daughters of Hussey women, whose married names were Marshall, Barnard, and Coleman, who married into the Folger family.

The writer has in his possession a photostatic copy of a genealogical chart, compiled for the Dr. Zimri Hussey, his great-grandfather, showing data on the Hussey, Bachiler, Bunker and other allied families on Nantucket. This chart is signed "Approved by Benjamin Franklin Folger". It speaks of Nantucket as "our island".

William Bunker, son of George and Jane (Godfrey) Bunker (and brother of Martha Bunker who was the wife of Stephen Hussey) married Mary Macy, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Macy, the first settlers of Nantucket.

Mary Bunker, daughter of George and Jane (Godfrey) Bunker (and sister of Martha Bunker, who was the wife of Stephen Hussey), married Stephen Coffin, son of the First Tristram and Dionis Coffin of Nantucket.

GENEALOGY
HUSSEY FAMILY
in England and America from the time of
"THE NORMAN CONQUEST"
in the year
1066

GENEALOGY COLLECTION
PUBLIC LIBRARY
FORT WAYNE & ALLEN CO., IND.

Sir William Hussey came into England from Normany, France, in the year 1066, with William, The Conqueror, with whom he calimed blood alliance; and was one of King William's principal officers during the Norman Conquest. After peace was declared he settled in the County of Surrey, then just south of London.

For several centuries the Hussey family was closely identified with the govern't of England, several having been members of Parliment.

Sir William Hussey was chosen " Lord-Chief Justice of the Court of Kings-Bench," and was summoned to Parliament under Henry the VIII, His son, John, was made "Chief Butler of England."

In 1316, Sir Hugh Hussey went from England to Ireland, and from him has descended a large family in that county.

The Rev. Stephen Bachilder and his wife, Martha, were natives of Holland, the former having received his A. B. Degree from St. Johns, Oxford, in 1585.

He was Vicar of Wherwell, Hants, for eighteen years, having been presentedby Lord de LaWare, father of the Lord de La Ware, for whom our State of Delaware was named.

He was of the Puritan contingent in Holland, and was a sturdy old dissenter. He was Pastor of a Church, or congregation, in the City of London, known as "The Plough Company."

The Bachilders had two daughters, Theodate and Deborah.

Daniel Webster has a clearly defined line of descent from the Rev. Stephen Bachilder.

Sir John Hussey, who married Mary Wood, in the town of Dorking and County of Surrey, England, on December 5th, 1593, was the father of Capt. Christopher Hussey, who was born in the town of Dorking, England in the year 1598.

Capt. Christopher Hussey was engaged to be married to Theodate, eldest daughter of Rev. Stephen Bachilder; but he and his family had decided to emigrate to America and the father would not consent to the marriage unless Capt. Christopher Hussey would come with them. In the spring of 1630, eleven vessels embarked from Southampton, England, for New England, with 1700 passangers on board, among whom was John Winthrop, the first Governor of Massachusetts Colony, and arrived at Salem, Mass., June 22nd, 1630. The Rev. Stephen Bachilder and wife and their two daughters, also Capt. Christopher Hussey and his widowed mother, Mary Wood Hussey, were among the passengers.

Soon after their landing Capt. Christopher and Theodate Bachilder were united in marriage, and the Hussey families settled in Lynn, Mass. and the Rev. Stephen Bachilder was installed as the first resident minister of that place. Stephen Hussey, the eldest child of Capt. Christopher

-2- The Hussey Genealogy

Hussey and Theodate Hussey, was born as the second child in Lynn, the first having been born the same week.

A Christopher Hussey, who was Mayor of Winchester, England, in 1609-1616 and 1631, is thought to have been related directly with Sir John Hussey, the father of Capt. Christopher.

John Greenleaf Whittier, of Amesbury, Mass. "The Quaker Poet", is a descendant of the Hussey family: His mother's maiden name was Hussey.

Deborah Bachilder, the second daughter, married a man by the name of Wing, of Sandwich, Mass. and from whom are descended the numerous family of that name.

Mary Wood Hussey, the mother of Capt. Christopher, afterward removed to Hampton, N. H. in 1638, and her son Capt. Christopher removed to the same place in 1639, and he served as Representative in 1658-9, and 1660, and was Councillor of the Province. He was also engaged in the settlement of Haverhill.

After the death of his wife, Theodate, in the year 1649, he was married again in 1659, to a widow by the name of Ann Mingay, who died June 24th, 1680.

Although Capt. Christopher Hussey probably never lived on the Island, he became one of the ten original purchasers of the Island of Nantucket, in the year 1659.

It was in 1659 that Thomas Mayhew, Missionary to the Indians of Martha's Vineyard, purchased of Lord Sterling, Sir Ferdinand George and James Farrett, all their right, title and interest in the Island of Nantucket. Then, retaining one-tenth of his purchase, Mayhew sold the remainder to these nine colonists of New England, viz:

Tristram Coffin	Peter Coffin
Thomas Macy,	Christopher Hussey
Richard Swain	Stephen Greenleaf
Thomas Barnard	John Swain
	William Pike

These were the first ten purchasers of the Patent Right of the Island.

Without any delay these estimable gentlemen realized the emigration problem they had on hand, and held a meeting at Salsbury, Mass., and agreed that each owner should choose a partner or associate in the plan of settlement, and then the ten thus selected: Nathan Starbuck, Edward Starbuck, John Smith, Robert Pike, Thomas Look, Robert Barnard, James Coffin, Tristram Coffin, Jr. James Coleman and Thomas Mayhew.

Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard could count their Magistrates on a par with the Colonial Governors; and it may be well to say here, that this fact has been enough to over-rule the objection once urged against the admission of Nantucket Daughters to membership in the "Society of Colonial Dames." But, if thas were not enough, they would be eligible on the ground that Nantucket was for a time a dependance of the State of N.York.

-3- The Hussey Genealogy

Capt. Christopher Hussey died March 6th, 1684, aged 88 years, and Theodate Hussey died October 20th, 1649, aged _____.

Capt. Christopher and Theodate Hussey had five children viz:

Stephen Hussey, the first child as above, was 26 years older than his wife, and died 2/2/1718, aged 88 years. His first wife, Martha Bunker Hussey, died 9/21, aged nearly 87 years. Stephen's second wife was Jane Godfry. Their son George was drowned 5/26/1658 by the upsetting of his wagon, loaded with lumber, while crossing a swollen stream, and his son, William, a lad of twelve years, succeeded in saving the team and conveying the body of his father to its destination.

The widow, Jane Godfry Hussey, with her four children, then came to Nantucket, and she afterward married Richard Swain. She died in 1662, and hers was the first death among the white inhabitants of the Island, it being the third year after the settlement.

John Hussey, the second son of Christopher and Theodate, who married Rebecca Perkins, removed to the State of New Jersey, and they had two sons and four daughters.

Stephen and Martha Bunker Hussey, the eldest son of Capt. Christopher had eight children, viz:

Worth, a Justice of the Peace, was a Minister in the " Society of Friends" and it is stated that on account of a slight difference between his brother Sylvester and himself he removed to the State of Maine, where some of his children settled. They had ten children viz:

Four of the children of Bachilder Hussey married and settled away from Nantucket, and their descendants are widely scattered.

Christopher, son of Bachilder and Abigail Hall Hussey, was born in Nantucket Fe. 10, 1706, married Ann Garretson of Delaware, and removed to Bucks County, Pa., where they had two sons, viz:

Stephen born in 1738

Christopher born 1740.

When the sons had grown to manhood, Christopher and Ann Hussey removed with their sons, to Randolph County, North Carolina. Some of the young people of the vicinity had come together to welcome the newcomers, and one of the young ladies, whose name was Martha Channers, when she saw Stephen the eldest son, remarked to one of her young lady friends, that she intended to have him for her husband, and they afterward were married. This Martha Channers was the daughter of Anthony Channers, who was kidnapped in England when a small boy and was brought to America and bound out until he was of age; he afterward married a young lady by the name of Sarah Cole. There was quite an estate in England coming to Anthony Channers, but his wife would not consent for him to again cross the ocean, and the estate remains unsettled.

Christopher, the younger brother, born in 1740 went from Randolph County, N. C. to Tennessee, and from there to Greene County, Ohio where he lived to a good old age, and left a large number of descendants.

Stephen Hussey, who was born in Bucks County, Pa. in 1738, was married to Martha Channers in 1764. They had seven children viz:

Elizabeth	1/30/1765	Thomas Cox, Sr. died in 1846
Sarah	6/14/1768	Thomas Cox, Jr. " Sept. 26, 1845
Christopher	11/19/1770	Sarah Coal & Rachael Jackson Graham d. 1/29/1851
Stephen	Oct. 3/1773	Mary Underwood died Sept. 28, 1853
Joshua	Nov. 10/1776	Sarah Cox of Deep River, N.C. d. 3/26/1849
William	Sept. 19/1780	Mary Williamson died in 1823
Martha	12/19/1787	Alexander Underwood died 3/5/1845

The father of Sarah Cox, who married Joshua Hussey, was Thomas Cox, an extensive miller on Deep River; during the Revolutionary War, when this section of the state was for a time in the hands of the British, they compelled Thos. Cox to grind grain for the British Army. When passing to and from his house, after night, the sentry would call out "Who goes there" and he would reply "Thomas Cox, the Miller", and he was never molested.

Christopher and Stephen Hussey, with their families, removed from Randolph county, N. C. to Highland County, Ohio, in 1806 and were followed by their brother Joshua, and their father Stephen, and their families, in the spring of 1807. Stephen Hussey, the father, purchased the land where New Vienna now stands, just across the line from Clinton County. Joshua settled about half a mile southeast of him, just in the edge of Highland County -- Christopher & Stephen having settled on the waters of "Clear Creek", some four miles south of them. The wife of William Hussey, the fourth son, owned some slaves, and when the father and the three elder brothers removed to a Free State, she was not willing to come with them on that account, and William & his family remained in North Carolina.

Joshua Hussey, the third son of Stephen and Martha Hussey, born in 1776, was united in marriage according to the "Order of Friends", at Holly Spring Meeting, 11th month, 15th day, 1778 to Sarah Cox, dau. of Thomas and Sarah Cox. Sarah Cox, wife of Joshua Hussey, was born in Randolph County, N. C. May 5, 1777, and died at the home of her son Stephen Hussey at New Vienna, Ohio, January 22, 1870, aged 92 years 8 mos. and 17 days. Joshua & Sarah Hussey had six children viz: (8)

Thomas	1800	married Jane Anthony; died 1822
Stephen	Oct. 23, 1804	" Rachael B. Thorn burg died 1883
Drucilla	1806	"Henry Candy, died 1829
William	1808	"Ann Clouser, died 1832
Nathan	1810	"Mary Hussey & Elizabeth Stockley(a widow) died 1831.
Sarah	1815	"Matthias Smith died 1839

The three older children were born in Randolph County, N. C. before the parents moved to Highland County, Ohio, in the spring of 1807. The three younger children were born in Highland County, Ohio.

Henry and Drucilla Canady removed from Ohio to Iowa, where she died, the father, with their children, afterward removed to Oregon and settled in the "Wilemot Valley." Some of the childrens names were:
Riley, Nathan, Joshua, John and Sarah.

There were other children. Nathan, the fifth child of Joshua and Sarah Hussey, died from the effect of a rat-bite upon his hand.

family

In the earlier days, at the time of the removal of the Hussey/into Ohio, in 1807, there were no railways for ready transportation and they had to resort to the more primitive way of 'Wagon and Team'. They drove from Deep River, N. C. thru Tennessee and Kentucky, "camping out by nite" in their wagons, and crossed the Ohio River at Maysville, Ky. into the new state of Ohio, which had only been admitted into the Union, as a State, in 1802. From Maysville they went to Highland County, Ohio where they settled in an entirely new and timbered country. They were six weeks on the road.

They had no house to go into and no neighbors within miles of them, and were compelled to live in their wagons for weeks, until the husband had time to clear off a patch of ground and build a log-cabin for the family to live, there was no "finishing Lumber" and the roof was of clap-boards. At night, the wolves howled around and chased the two "watch Dogs" up to the cabin, and they in their haste would rush against the clapboard door and would seemingly break it down. It was in such a cabin where the hospitality of the inmates was recognized by "the Latch string hanging out." It was a string to a wooden latch and put through a hole in the door; when they wanted to lock the house, they pulled the string inside and defied you to "work the Combination."

Stephen, second son of Joshua and Sarah Hussey, was united in marriage according to the Order of Friends at Lees Creek Meeting, near New Lexington, Ohio on Oct. 22, 1829 to Rachael B. Thornburg of Highland County, and they had five children viz:

Edwin	Oct. 31, 1830	died Feb. 6, 1832
Isaac T.	2/5/1832	" Dec. 29, 1848
Martha Ann,	1/15/1834	married Daniel Hill 2/15/1865 died April 19, 1872
Silas,	Apr. 11, 1836	died April 13, 1878
John M.	2/6/1838	married Anna R. Fall, Nov. 22, 1864; resides at this time (1918) at Somerville, N. J. with their son, Dr. Homer F. Hussey and his family -- a grandson, Allan Fall Hussey, born April 1st, 1911. Mary Inda, second child of John M. and Anna R. Hussey born June 17, 1876, is a translator of Egyptian Tablets at Harvard University part of the time and instructor in similar work in the Biblical Dep't of Mt. Holyoke College.

This GENEALOGY was compiled by John M. Hussey last above named from the most authenticated histories of the family, both in ENGLAND and America since the family came into England in 1066, at the time of The Norman Conquest.

This COPY of this Genealogy written by Frank W. Hussey, at his home in Columbus, Ohio, son of Isaac Hussey, who was a son of John Hussey, this John Hussey was a son of Christopher Hussey, who emigrated to Highland County, Ohio from Randolph County, N. C. in 1806.
